Thanks for reading this suggestion. I am a Full Stack Web Developer.

I hope you are doing well, and I hope you are interested in new business with me.
Do you know about the US-based Upwork platform?
If you know it, that's fine, but don't worry if you're not.
Upwork is the world wide freelancing platform and works great for me.

I need a new Upwork account now, you will ask why?

I withdrew $10k from my top-rated account per month last year, but their policy rules no longer allow me to use my account and work there.

With over 12 million competitors, I agree it's a really tough one to make money on.
But I'm veteran freelancer and working there for over 10 years, so I know all risks and rules, also have some vision to hit the top dollar.

The reason my account was suspended is related to moving houses during the war in Ukraine. I couldn't use my account during the last 2 months since there was no electricity and I could go out at night only.
So I contacted Upwork support but they couldn't fix the problem.
If you lend me your account, I will pay you back 10% of the money I earn.
Since I have enough skills and experience, I can make a lot of money on your account and you will receive money every month.
At first I can earn $2k-$3k per month, but after 4-6 months I can grow your account well and earn $5-$7k.
Finally after 1 year I will be making $10k+ per month and you can make $1k+ monthly without doing any work.

How to use it?

I am trying to use your account remotely using Anydesk or Teamview on my local PC.
I must use your local PC because the Upwork platform always detects IP addresses.
Perhaps you are afraid of losing your PC data. Don't worry about it.
I don't want to see any data on your PC and You can see all my work if I use your PC remotely.
And then I will use only Google Chrome web browser to find jobs on the upwork platform.
So, I don't want a high-end PC, I want a low-end PC to run my web browser.

How do I pay?

This is clear since I connect your bank to upwork! So, I don't know your bank detail and once I make money, I need your help with withdrawals.
You will withdraw money from Upwork to your paypal or payoneer and then should send me 90% of the total earning.

Requirement.
1. Must be 20 years of age or older.
2. You can speak English fluently.
3. Better if you are European or American.
4. If you provide a PC that can be turned on 24/7, even better.

Once you make your mind, just ping me.

NOTE: Don't create it yourself!
I will use yours, but the skill set must match mine.

How can you contact me?
